

The daylong conference on Feb. 1 is open to any Sons of The American Legion member to gain insightful organizational knowledge and connections.

Please help us promote the National Regional Information Conference by including the message below in your posts, district and department newsletters, and social media platforms.

Boston is the next stop for the American Legion's National Regional Information Conference. And you're invited to attend!

Whether you're a new or longtime member of the Sons of The American Legion, the conference is designed for any Sons of The American Legion member to learn valuable training on the organization's mission, vision, and programs and to connect with Legion Family members. You do not have to hold an officer position to attend. All are welcome.

The recent conference in Denver received outstanding feedback, with attendees sharing:

- "Excellent information and met some great people. It's like a short vacation with purpose."
- "Great content and topics."
- "The smaller setting allowed for more meaningful discussions."
- I gained practical knowledge I could use right away."

Now it's your turn to join us!
